PASSING OF FRIGID BLAST

High Wind, Losing Power Hereabouts, is Passing Into Atlantic.

NORMAL CONDITIONS.

Alexandria Escapes With But Little Serious Damage—Streets Littered With Evidences of Storm.

The storm which gripped the entire East during the last 24 hours, paralyzing traffic, demolishing telegraph and telephone lines and causing tremendous losses to property and business generally, is reported to be off Boston, Mass., and rapidly passing out to sea. Moderate temperatures with abated winds have prevailed today.

While Alexandria had a thrilling experience Sunday night and part of yesterday, the damage hereabouts from the high winds was trifling when compared with the destruction of property and suffering caused elsewher from the elements Twenty-five persons lost their lives in different places, some froze to death and many were injured in various ways. There is no doubt that a number have perished in vessels on the coast, although it is impossible at present to ascertain facts in connection with disasters.

The effects of the blizzard have been widespread. The high wind of yesterday added to the damage caused by Sunday night's tornado in Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, and cities on the Atlantic seaboard as far as Maine.

The blizzard of March, 1914, like that of 1888, is now a thing of the past and we are but hearing the echoes of the rushing mighty wind which wrought damage and brought terror Sunday night and yesterday. Hence the community is breathing easily. Moderate winds and slowly rising temperature are bringing more normal conditions.

The Gazette yesterday in its description of the damage wrought by the elements covered the field. In all cases where serious damage had resulted the fact had been recorded, but apart from these fences were prostrated, signs blown down, gates unhinged, shutters twisted from their fastenings, window sash broken, shingles blown from roofs, rain spouting hurled from houses, etc.

The terrible force of the wind was realized by many yesterday who visited Armory hall and gazed upon the huge sheet of tin which had been lifted from the roof of that structure and thrown upon roofs of the houses south of the building, where it flapped defiantly for hours.

Buildings which had fared worse by having chimneys and parts of walls blown in were boarded up temporarily, or until repairs can be made.

The streets still bear evidence of the destructive work of the elements. Pieces of tin, shingles, tar paper spouting, limbs and twigs from trees are to be seen everywhere, while there is enough paper floating about the streets to horrify the Civic Improvement League. All debris will be gathered up as soon as possible.

In Washington eight persons were injured, some of them seriously, approximately forty tin roofs blown off, fifty trees uprooted or broken off, a thousand or more windows broken, three houses almost destroyed, and innumerable shutters, awnings, fences, skylights and chimneys carried away.

At least twenty-five persons are dead in New York, and tremendous damage has been done, which may run into millions, telegraph and telephone service are disrupted, great railroad systems are paralyzed, and cities and towns alike are buried and isolated under twelve inches of snow and ice, according to reports from throughout the East today.

Railroads were able to resume their schedules today with a semblance of regularity, but traffic still was hampered.

HITS RELIGIOUS ORDERS.

Decision Declaring Vow of Poverty Against Public Policy Before Supreme Court.

Washington, March 3.—Upon decision of the Supreme Court in a case to be considered this week may rest the future of every brotherhood and sisterhood of the Catholic Church in the United States.

The court will be called upon to decide whether the vows of poverty in these orders are against public policy, as recently decided by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals of the Eighth District.

The case in question arises out of the death of Father Wirth, a member of the order of St. Benedict, founded about 525 A. D. At the time of his death in 1901, Father Wirth was in charge of the German Catholic Church at Sprnigfield, Minn,

Nearly 50 years before he took the vows of the Benedictine Society of Chastity, poverty and obedience. He was then 23 years of age. The effect of the vow of poverty was that all right of possessing property on his part was transferred to the order and that the latter on its part became obligated to educate, maintain and support him for life.

Father Wirth became a member of the St. Vincent Mission of Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, in 1846 Later he was made prior of a monastery in Kansas, and about 1897 he went to Minnesota. During his life he had become such an honored member that his superior permitted him to retain certain property,being possessed at the time of his death of some $5,000 in addition to royalties from books he had written.

The probate court of Brown county, Minnesota, recognized his heirs as entitled to the property. After a series of contests with the order the heirs succeeded in getting a decision from the United States Circuit Court to the effect that the vow of poverty was against public policy and therefore void. The heirs were held entitled to the property.

Approximately 50,00 priests,brothers and nuns will be affected by the decision, and it is probable that the title of the orders to their churches, colleges, school houses, hospitals and sanitoriums in practically every state in the Union may be drawn into question.

In the application for the Supreme Court to review the decision attorneys for the order stated that if the decision was followed to its full extent it might eventually dissolve and disintegrate the temporal organization of these orders .

It was also pointed out that the decision might affect religious orders of the Episcopal Church and some of the other Protestant denominations.

HOUSE TURNS DOWN REQUEST

First Time in This Congress That President's Wishes Have Been Denied.

Washington, March 3.—For the first time in this congress the House has ignored a request made by President Wilson.

On February 24th the president wrote a letter to Chairman Flood, of the committee on foreign affairs, urging the immediate passage of the bill giving effect to the treaty between the United States and Great Britain providing for the protection of fish in the waters between this country and Canada. He pointed out that the treaty was negotiated in 1908, and that unless the appropriate legislation was passed at once Great Britain would withdraw the obligations imposed by the instrument.

The committee promptly reported the bill and the measure came up for consideration in the house yesterday. It was called up under suspension of the rules, which required a two-thirds vote to pass the measure.

The committee promptly reported the bill and the measure came up for consideration in the house yesterday. It was called up under suspension of the rules, which required a two-thirds vote to pass the measure.

The measure was stoutly opposed by members from the Great Lakes region, who insited that it should be given more careful consideration Chairman Flood demanded a record vote and the bill failed 110 to 106.

The measure will be brought up later when only a majority vote will be needed to put it through. Its passage under the latter circumstance is assured, according to the Democratic leaders.

DEBT COMMISSION TO CONFER AGAIN

Representatives of Virginia and West Virginia Meet Tomorrow.

HOPE OF SETTLEMENT.

Believed That a Compromise Offer Will be Made to Conference by Agents of West Virginia.

Richmond, March 3.—At the request of West Virginia, the commissions from Virginia and West Virginia, which were named to negotiate a settlement of the West Virginia debt case along the lines suggested by the United States Supreme Court, will meet in Washington tomorrow for another conference. The last conference held by the two commissions in Washington on July 25, 1913, adjourned after two days of futile endeavors to open negotiations upon grounds acceptable to both sides. At that time the Virginia commission notified Chairman Mason, of the West Virginia commission, that Virginia would not negotiate upon any issue except the amount of interest due, holding that the Supreme Court had established the liability of West Virginia and set the amount of the debt at $7,182,507.46.

West Virginia's representatives insisted that the Supreme Court intended the entire question to be submitted to compromise, principal as well as interest, and upon this rock of contention the negotiations split. On September 22, 1913, Chairman Mason notified Chairman J. B. Moon, of the Virginia commission, that the West Virginia commission was working on a plan of compromise to submit to the Virginia commission within four months, which was expected to prove equitable and acceptable. It is presumed that the object of the conference tomorrow is to let West Virginia offer its plan of settlement.

On receiving notice that West Virginia wished four months in which to prepare its proposals, the Virginia commission applied to the Supreme Court for a final decree in the litigation, with a view to withdrawing the matter from compromise and having the amount of the interest established by court. The Supreme Court rendered a reply on November 10, 1913, allowing West Virginia until April 13, 1914, to resume negotiations with Virginia looking toward a settlement of the question at issue.

Since this six months of grace was allowed West Virginia has intimated its intention, through its commission, of asking the Supreme Court on April 13 to reopen the entire litigation. Virginia will oppose this and press its prayer for a final decree. Contrary to the general opinion, the State of Virginia will receive but little of the West Virginia debt in case of settlement. The debt is in the form of West Virginia certificates, which are held almost exclusively by English bondholders. Virginia entered the litigation only because individuals may not sue a sovereign State, and the Virginia bondholders would have been unable to collect at law their claims against West Virginia. Virginia's right as a party to the suit was established by the fact that a small amount of West Virginia certificates are held by the State Literary Fund.

The Virginia Debt Commission is composed of John B. Moon, chairman; Joseph S. Button, secretary; Henry T. Wickham, W. F. Rhea, H. H. Downing, H. D. Flood, Randolph Harrison and J. Thompson Brown, Attorney-General John Garland Pollard is an ex-officio member of the commission.

All persons holding stubs for Victor Victrola of the Order of Eagles be present at raffling at Opera House, Tuesday night, March 3rd.

DEATH OF J. G. GRILLBORTZER.

Another Old and Well-Known Resident Passes Away This Morning.

John G. Grillbortzer, who had for some time been confined to his house by illness, died this morning at the residence of his brother, Jacob H. Grillbortzer, 719 South Patrict street, The deceased had reached his eightieth year.

Mr. Grillbortzer was the last of the ante bellum attendants of the market in this city, he with other members of his family having been familiar figures in the agora during two thirds of a century.

The deceased was born in Germany and came to this country with his parents in early life. The family engaged in trucking in the southwestern confines of Alexandria, and were familiar figures in the market. In olden times there were a number of representatives of German thrift who were regular attendants on our market, all of whom have passed away, and during a long period Mr. Grillbortzer was the only one left by the great reaper. Mrs .Schafer, Mrs. Nailor, Mrs. Hyde, and others will be remembered by the old residents.

DEATH OF MRS. DEAN.

Mrs. Lucinda A. Dean, wife of Augustus Dean, died at her home, 535 south Lee street, yesterday afternoon, in her 87th year. She was a daughter of James Beach, and was born in Occoquan. She leaves three children, Charles and Edward Dean, and Mrs. Samuel Johnson. Her funeral will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and will be conducted by the Rev. C. R. Strausburg.

NO VISITORS AT MT. VERNON.

For the First Time in Years Weather Keeps Them Away.

For the first time in many years, on a day when Mt. Vernon is open to the public, there were no visitors at the estate yesterday. H. F. Dodge, superintendent, who has been connected with Mt. Vernon, for a number of years, says that it was the first time since he has been there that the weather conditions were so severe as to keep all sightseers away. There were no trains operated on the Washington-Virginia Railway between Alexandria and Mt. Vernon yesterday and no traffic by boat.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

150 Alexandria Individuals and Corporations to Pay Taxes.

Last night was the last night in which income tax returns could be filed with the collector of the internal revenue and there was a rush on the part of many citizens, who had put off the matter to the last moment in getting their blanks properly filled up and sworn to.

As it is well known the tax affects all corporations, who are compelled to pay one per cent on the net income, and all individuals who have an income of $3,000 or over. Married persons are allowed an exemption of $1,000, but if there income is over $3,000, they must file a statement.

According to an estimate of a well known Alexandrian who is familiar with the financial condition of the town approximately 100 Alexandria individual and 50 corporations will be compelled to pay their income tax. In the list of the 100 individuals, whom he estimates as coming within the law, he gives 14 lawyers, 8 bankers, 11 merchants, 10 manufactuers and 8 doctors.

VILLA EXECUTES THREE ATTORNEYS

Former Rebel Governor of Chihuahua Said to be Among Victims.

AN AMERICAN KILLED.

Financial District of Mexico Aroused by Attempt to Manipulate Money Market.

Mexico City, March 3.—Letters received here say Felipe Gutierrez, the rebel governor of Chihuahua, during the Orozco revolution against President Madero, has been captured by General Villa, and was probably shot.

During the last few days Villa has executed Alberto Viallareal, Pedro Gaurjardo, and Bernardo Castro, all of whom were prominent attorneys of Chihuahua and sympathizers with the Huerta government.

El Paso, Tex., March 3.—Joseph H. Harmon, an American agent for the Mines Company of America, has been murdered by Mexican federals, according to information received here.

Mexico City, March 3.—Rumors that the United States would recognize the Huerta government within forty-eight hours spread through the capital today, and, finally, were traced to a financial cause. Apparently somebody as yet undiscovered, tried to manipulate the Mexico City money market.

An extraordinary amount of the American bank drafts in circulation in Mexico City attracted attention, and it was discovered that the flotation was in connection with the report that President Wilson had made up his mind to recognize Huerta. The rumor was defiant and persistent. The inexplicable situation wholly upset the capital money market and bankers were at their wit's ends.

The foreign office refused to comment on the situation and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American charge, could not account for it.

A Carranzarista here today says General Villa does not mean to attack Torreon. He said Villa's forces around Torreon were mere bluffs to fool the federals and draw their fire. When Villa is ready to strike, he said, he will attack the city of Guadalajara, which is only a ten-hour journey from Mexico City. The outpost captured, Villa would immediately move on the capital.

When the rebels bombarded Mazatlan on Sunday a shell tore through the roof of a church while the congregation were at mass, but nobody was hurt.

Washington, March 3.—The administration was waiting today for Sir Edward Grey's formal expression of Great Britain's attitude on the Mexican situation. Officials here have been formaly advised by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice of England's support of the "watchful waiting" policy but it was anticipated that when the Secretary for Foreign Affairs makes his promised statement on the Benton case he might go farther than make mere announcement of approval of this government's course.

AGAINST INDIAN HEAD FUND.

Effort to Cut Out $500,000 Appropriation From Bill.

Representative Hensley, Witherspoon, Buchanan nad Gray, of the House Naval Affairs Committee, have organized a fight on the $500,000 appropriation carried in the Naval Appropriations bill for the enlargement of the powder factory at Indian Head, Md.

They will try to have this item stricken from the bill on the grounds that the extension of the Indian Head plant will ultimately cost $800,000 and that the government now has facilities to manufacture 900,000 more pounds of powder than needed. Another fight will be made on the $450,000 appropriation for the construction of a powerful crane at the Norfolk Navy Yard.

The suits of Nora Barker and Elizabeth Hansbrouck against the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Co., for $10,000 damages each for personal injuries, which was set for trial today in the Circuit Court, were postponed until the May term on account of the inability of witnesses to reach here from down the river points.

FREE POLICEMAN.

Negro With Other Who Was Killed Held for Cutting Officer.

Danville, Va., March 3.—Police Officer W. C. Hall was acquitted of killing Percy Foster, whom he shot when the latter stabed him while resisting arrest on the night of February 13th in front of a colored moving picture show. Russell Blackwell, a negro friend of Foster's, was held for the grand jury on the charge of feloniously assaulting the officers at the same time.

Hall, in his statement to the court declared that Russell Blackwell, who, with Percy Foster, had upon two previous occasions on the night of the killing sought entrance to the moving picture show and had been refused, ran up behind when Foster drew the knife and deliberately prevented the officer from getting his revolver after Foster had stabbed him twice in the chest and slashed him over the shoulder.

The mayor rendered his decision quickly after the arguments had been completed, exonerating Hall of the killing and ordering Russell Blackwell to be held for the action by the grand jury.

SENATE PASSES FEE REFORM BILL

Measure, as Amended, Goes Through Upper House by Vote of 35 to 2.

EFFECTIVE JAN. 1, 1916.

Creates Commission to Which Fee Officers of State Must Make Annual Detail Reports.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—By a vote of 35 to 2, the Senate at its afternoon session yesterday passed Senator West's bill creating a commission to consider the compensation of the court clerks and other dual officers of the cities and counties and the state, and establishing a maximum compensation scale graduated according to population. The measure is better known as the antifee bill, and its passage by the Senate is regarded as a long step in the direction of placing all officers of this character on a salary basis.

As originally drawn the bill provided a maximum compensation of $3,500 applying to officers in cities and counties of the largest population, with correspondingly lower maximums for cities and counties of less population. In the bill as amended by the Finance Committee and passed yesterday, the highest compensation for cities is fixed at $6,500, and the maximum for counties at $5,000.

A special amendment offered by Senator Cannon, and incorporated immediately before the bill was passed, permits cities of 125,000 population or more to supplement the salaries of their treasurers with appropriation from [illegible] pal coffers, but limits [illegible] salary paid by the [illegible] any such treasurer [illegible] The amendment, [illegible] only the city treasurer of Richmond.

The central provision of the bill, and the one which is regarded as the most promising of ultimate thoroughgoing reform, creates a commission consisting of the Governor, the Auditor of Public Accounts, and the State Accountant, to which all officers and clerks effected by the act are required to submit annually a report showing all fees, allowances and commissions paid into their offices and the sources from which they are derived.

Under a new section added by the Finance Committee, the provisions limiting the compensation of the officers do not become effective until January 1, 1916 The sections relating to the filing of the reports are operative from the day on which the bill becomes law.

ICE EXTENDS FAR DOWN.

Steamers Have Considerable Trouble Making Trips.

The steamer Northland, of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Co., arrived at this port this morning about 9 o'clock, two hours and a half late. Captain Posey reported encountering ice as far down as Blackstone's Island. There was considerable ice on the steamer and other evidence that she experienced a trying night in the bay and river.

In consequence of the accident to the Newport News, occasioned by collision with the steamer Northumberland, of the Baltimore route, and the grounding of the Newport News at the mouth of the Eastern Branch, arrangements were made for sending the steamer Southland down this morning. The Northland was compelled to wait at this port until the Southland left the berth in Washington.

The channel—or most of it—opposite this city is comparatively clear of ice, it having been blown on the opposite flats by the high winds of Sunday night and yesterday. There are many heavy flows, however, at the bends in the river, through which it is difficult for powerful steamers to make their way.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Interesting News Notes About Poppin of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Page announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betsy Burwell Page, to Norman Gaynor, of New York. Mr. Gaynor has been a guest at "Oakland," in Hanover county, the Page home, for the past week. The exact date of the marriage has not yet been announced, but it will probably be celebrated some time in June. The engagement is one of the most interesting of the early spring season, owing to the social prominence of the bride-to-be. The Pages have long held honored places in the historical and social life of the State, and their family connection is one of the most important in the South. Miss Page is a niece of Ambassador Nelson Page, and has a large host of friends and acquaintances in Alexandria, where she has often visited Miss Emily Johnson. Mr. Gaynor is a son of the late William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York.

Miss Delia Phillips is the guest of Miss Marian Lindsey, in Braddock Heights.

Mr. William B. Smoot has gone to Atlantic City where he will spend a week at the Marlborough-Blenheim.

Mr. Julian D. Knight is at home after a three weeks' illness at the Alexandria Hospital. He was operated on by Dr. White, of Washington, on February 9th.

Mr. Martin M. Klein, agent of the Department of Agriculture, returned today from Dallas, Texas, where he accompanied the government exhibits which were shown at the National Corn Show. The exhibits, which comprise six car loads have been shipped from Dallas to the government warehouse in this city.

Gayety—Robie's Beauty Show.

Louis Robie's Beauty Show, presenting a two-act musical burlesque entitled, "Oh, Oh, Josephine!" is the attraction at the Gayety this week, and was greeted yesterday by two big enthusiastic audiences. The beauty show contains a lot of beauty, and, in addition, has good music, plenty of comedy, a lively chorus, and pretty costumes. The comedy parts are taken by James Rowland, as Senator Mulligan; Johnnie Walker, as Col. Doolittle, and Sam Greene as Pug Nacious. Rowland makes a funny Irishman, (and his comedy work is supplemented by an excellent voice. His song, "I'm Saving my Coupons," is as big a hit as ever, and he was obliged to sing every verse he could think up yesterday. Johnnie Walker is a remarkable acrobat, and the stunts he does while inebriated are really wonderful. In the last act he and Doris Thayer have a dance that is a feature of the show. Libbie Blondell, a friend of long standing among the patrons of burlesque, is as shapely as ever, and sings with her customary charms and ability. The chorus, incidentally, lives up to the title of the show. It contains young women who not only look well, but appear to be comfortable in scanty attire.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION

Newport News and Northumberland Come Together at Mouth of Eastern Branch

The Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company's steamer Newport News, bound for Norfolk, with more than a half a hundred passengers, crashed into the steamer Northumberland with a score of passengers, at the junction of the Potomac river and Eastern Branch, a short distance north of Alexandria early last night. The port side of the Northumberland was torn away and the Newport News with her steering gear demolished had her stern damaged.

With a gapping hole in her side, three staterooms demolished, her boilers exposed, and the exterior of her main and saloon decks carried away through a heavy ice jam under full speed and steamed to her dock at the foot of Seventh street southwest, Washington, where her passengers were hurried ashore. None of them or the crew was injured.

Drifting before the high wind that swept the river and piled up huge cakes of ice, the Newport News, with her stern broken in and both steam and hand steering gear demolished, was saved from being blown hard ashore by the Firefighter, which steamed alongside the steamer and stood by to take off passengers in the event that the Newport News had been damaged below the water line.

Until nearly midnight the Firefighter stood by the Newport News, battling against wind, ice, and a strong current in efforts to extricate the steamer from the ice jam. Finally the fight was abandoned by request of Daniel J. Callahan, general manager of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, owner of the Newport News. Eight passengers were transferred from the steamer to the fire tug and carried to Washington. The other passengers elected to remain aboard the steamer when assured there was no danger.

The Newport News was lying with her nose pointed toward Washington across the Eastern Branch, opposite the apex of the peninsular on which the War College is located.

She was floated this morning and towed to Washington.

The collision occurred about 7:30 o'clock last evening. The Northumberland had been caught in the ice jam off Giesboro Point early in the morning and held prisoner all day. Shortly after noon the Firefighter went to aid the Northumberland and succeeded in freeing her about 7 o'clock at night. The Northumberland turned her prow toward Washington, steaming slowly.

The Newport News, lying across the channel, with her bow toward Virginia, was sighted drifting off the War College peninsula. The Northumberland started to pass by the stern of the Newport News, but the latter steamer, caught in the ice and wind, crashed stern first into the side of the Northumberland. When the Newport News disabled her steering gear has not been learned. It is believed, however, that the steering gear was disabled as the Newport News was leaving her dock.

Captain Smith, of the Northumberland, refused to talk, explaining that he was forbidden by a rule of the Maryland, Virginia and Delaware Railway, which owns the Northumberland.

AUTOMOBILE SKIDS.

Congressman Carlin Has Narrow Escape Yesterday.

Congressman Charles C. Carlin, of the Eighth District of Virginia, had a narrow escape from being injured yesterday when a big limousine in which he was making the trip from Alexandria to Washington, skidded on Virginia Avenue, Washington, between Ninth and Tenth streets, and collided with a tree. All of the occupants of the car were thrown out and the machine badly wrecked. Congressman Carlin escaped with slight bruises on the body and an abrasion of the face.

Harry Wood, the driver of the car jumped before the car struck the tree, and Henry Lewis, a colored boy, who was riding on the front seat, was injured about the face and body. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, where his wounds were treated, and he was sent home. Cecil K. Sherman, who was in the car with Mr. Carlin, escaped unhurt.

The car left Alexandria yesterday shortly before noon. No street cars were in operation, and as it was imperative for the Congressman to reach Washington, he engaged the limousine from the Central Garage here.

TRIALS OF CORRESPONDENT

Uses Cab, Train, Electric Cars, and Automobile to Convey News.

Yesterday was a hard one on the newspaper men who were compelled to face the wind and gather together the story of the big hurricane that swept over the country doing millions of dollars damage. In Baltimore where the wind blew houses down and ripped of roofs in every block the reporters and photographers suffered intensely as they made their way against the wind which was still blowing and portrayed the incidents that had happened in their community. Marine reporters at the big ports like New York and Philadelphia, spent hours on the icy docks of ocean-going tugs meeting the big liners as they limped into ports and getting a first hand story of the events of the stormy voyage across the Atlantic.

Here in Alexandria the conditions were comparatively simple but still it was no easy work. One staff correspondent of an out-of-town newspaper was put to great inconvenience in getting his letter to the home office. There were no trolleys running and the telephone lines were working badly. After facing the wind for several hours gathering the story of the storm's damage he took a cab for the Union station where after some delay he was fortunate in catching the Florida special for Washington, several hours late. The return was made late in the afternoon and in the evening he was compelled to make another trip to the capital city. This time he used a trolley car to the end of the high way bridge and then had to walk from there to the newspaper office.

Says Politics Spoiled Wife.

San Francisco, Cal., March 3.—Because, he says, his home has ceased to be a home, largely through his wife's devotion to politics and club matters, Dr. Charles F. McCarthy, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of this city whose country place is at San Mateo, has decided to make a tour of India.

A Brief Description of a Few of the New Models

A Picture Hat of Leghorn has entire crown of soft filmy lace, with underbrim ruching of lace and lined with blue silk. Three large roses and velvet ribbon streamers complete this very modish model.

A new poke effect, of fine blue milan hemp has mustard-colored velvet ribbon drawn over crown, with large bow in back of bandeau. The trimmings of this model are roses and wheat.

A low flat shape of violet tagal braid has a very high bandeau at side revealing much of the coiffure, and is banked with violets—a touch of contrast is given by large American beauty roses.

A narrow shape of violet milan hemp is a perfect picture in colors. Violets are placed high on the crown, and the band of embossed ribbon imparts a decidedly chic appearance to this model.

An old-fashioned poke shape is made of black hemp braid, and has double brim completely lined with hyacinth blue. A small bunch of French flowers trim the back, with streamers of black velvet.

A three-quarter shaped model of black hemp has entire crown covered with the vivid colorings and striking design of the "Poiret" ribbon, with large band of old blue velvet ribbon encircling crown.

A tete-negre Toque of fancy straw has the modish transparent crown, and is trimmed with goura feathers of the same shade.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

CONFEDERATE PENSION BILL.

House of Delegates Votes $600,000 to Old Soldiers.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—Amid applause the Baker-Stubbs Confederate Pension Bill was passed by the House of Delegates yesterday by practically a unanimous vote.

The bill carries an indefinite appropriation of over $600,000. It will be necessary to cut their appropriations if the Senate concurs.

Whether the principal cut will be in the good roads fund or in the appropriations for colleges will be determined when the appropriation bill is discussed.

Important amendments were added to the bill just before its passage. These amendments—among them one by Delegate Lowry of Bedford, giving each one-legged veteran $75 for a wooden leg, if he needs it—fix these special figures in the following classes:

Class A. To every person who has lost two eyes, or two feet, or two hands, or a hand and foot, by reason of wounds received or surgical operation therefor, while in the discharge of his duty as a soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederate States in the war between the States, and any such as have become totally blind, the sum of $180 per anum.

Class B. To every person who has lost a foot or hand, while in the discharge of his duty as a soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederate States in the said war, the sum of $80 per annum.

Class C. To every person who is disabled by wounds received, or surgical operation therefor, while in the discharge of his duty as a soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederate States in the said war, or is disabled by disease, if such disability be proven to be total, the sum of fifty dollars per annum, and if such disability be proven to be partial, the sum of thirty-five dollars per annum.

Class D. To every person over the age of sixty-five years who was loyal and true as a soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederate States during said war, and who by reason of the infirmities of age has become disabled and incapable of earning a livelihood, if such disability be proven to be total the sum of forty-four dollars per annum, and if such disability be proven to be partial, the sum of twenty-eight dollars per annnum.

Class E. To every widow, remaining unmarried, of any soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederate States whose husband lost his life while in the discharge of his duty in the military or naval service of the Confederate States during the said war, who is now a widow, although she may have married again, the sum of forty-eight dollars per annum.

Class F. To every widow of any soldier, sailor or marine of the Confederates States, whose husband was loyal and true in the military or naval service of the Confederate States, during the said war, and has since died, who is now a widow, although she may have married again, the sum of thirty dollars per annum.

Class G. To every matron who served in a Confederate hospital as provided in section 4 of this act, the sum of forty-eight dollars per annum.

Class. H. To personal representatives of deceased pensioners, as provided in section 5 of this act, a sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

May Help You if Lungs Are Affected

Proper diet, fresh air and temperate habits are beneficial to persons suffering from Lung Trouble; but in a great many instances reports show that the addition of a medicine for this affection has materially helped in bringing about recovery. For more than fifteen years Eckman's Alterative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles, has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case:—

Madison Lake, Minn.

"Gentlemen: In December, 1908, March, 1909, and September, 1909, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs which confined me several weeks, each time to my bed. My doctor advised me to go West. In November I started for Denver, Col. After my arrival I met Michael Brody, who, upon learning of my condition, urged me to take Eckman's Alterative. I kept on taking the medicine and improved fast. In March, 1910, I returned home. I am entirely well, have a good appetite and sleep well. When I left Denver my weight was 130 pounds. I now weigh 165, my normal weight. I thank God and your Alterative for my health."

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

WINCHESTER HARD HIT.

Trees, Uprooted in Cemeteries, Demolish Monaments and Tear Open Graves.

Winchester, Va., March 3.—The worst storm experienced in this section for years, which began Sunday, caused more than $100,000 damage. The wind reached a velocity of 75 miles.

Although no loss of life has occurred, scores of persons were swept off their feet, business houses and homes partly demolished nad unroofed,barns and other farm buildings blown over, electric, telephone and telegraph services crippled, trains delayed, cemetery monuments and scores of tombstones wrecked; chimneys knocked over; shutters torn from their hinges; street signs ripped from fastenings and windows shattered. Comparatively few buildings in Winchester escaped damage.

Scores of trees in Mount Hebron Cemetery were uprooted, knocking down tombstones, ripping open graves and exposing skeletons. A granite monument in Oliver P. Groves' lot was smashed. Great damage was done by falling trees in the Confederate and National Cemeteries.

Windows were torn out of City Hall and the slate roof is badly damaged. A steel smokestack at Robinson's Steam Laundry was blown down and part of the gas company's plant was unroofed.

Reports from the county districts tell of great havoc, some barns having been blown from the foundations and hurled across fields.

WANTS POLL BOOKS.

Echo of Election in Norfolk Last November.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—Commonwealth's Attorney O. L. Shackleford has asked that the registration books of W. E. Daugherty, registrar of election November 4th, in the Sixth precinct of Adams ward, be produced before the grand jury and that the poll books of the same precinct be produced in the grand jury room on the same date.

No witnesses have been summoned up to this time. There is nothing in the proceedings as yet to indicate against whom prosecution is directed.

Judge Chichester, of Fredericksburg, recently presided at the investigation of the charges filed by the Citizens' Party in behalf of R. W. Peatross against James V. Trehy, clerk of the courts.

Judge Chichester's decision was that while there had been some votes cast on both sides which should not have been counted, the number of ballots to counsel was not sufficient to change the result of the election.

Frozen to Death.

Bristol, Va., March 3.—J. W. Williams, 82 years old, and a retired Norfolk and Western employe, said to be one of the oldest in point of service on the system, was found dead yesterday morning in his house on the Virginia side. He is supposed to have frozen to death last night during the severe blizzard that swept over this section. He has been a railroad pensioner for years.

50-MILE GALE AT NORFOLK.

Sea Is Running High, But no Disasters Reported.

Norfolk, Va., March 3.—High northwesterly winds, with the thermometer below the freezing point, swept the coast of Virginia and North Carolina yesterday, the icy blasts reaching a velocity of nearly 50 miles an hour. The sea was running high, but no marine disasters have been reported.

Offshore winds caused a very low tide and hindered the work of floating the stranded British steamship Riverdale at Little Island. The wrecking tug Rescue was still pulling away at the Riversdale last night, but it is feared that there would have to be a shift of winds, with higher tides, before the ship can be freed.

FATE OF PRIMARY BILL.

Motion to Reconsider Was Passed by The Senate.

Richmond, Va., March 3. — What will be the fate of the primary election bill pending in the Senate? That question was being generally asked in the lobbies last night. When the bill was reached it was proposed to reconsider the vote by which an amendment was agreed to, and that motion was passed by.

If the vote is reconsidered, it is possible that the whole bill will be up for discussion and consideration as at the outset. The pressure for time lessens the chance for passage, for the house has yet to dispose of it.

The appropriation bill will consume a great deal of time in the house, and the rush to get measures through will make it necessary for the friends of the primary bill to muster their forces and override objection. Can that be done? is asked.

In the course of the next few days the two houses will have to work under a resolution by which five objections will prevent consideration of a measure. And there are more than that number in the House who will object to the primary bill.

The house has made an appropriation for $600 000 for confederate pensions, but it has failed to say from what source the money will be taken. If the Senate shall concur the appropriation will cause one of two things—necessitate the reduction of some appropriations already made by the Senate or create a deficit in the treasury.

Last night when the bill to compensate the lawyers for the prosecution in the famous Allen cases was reached in the senate, the bill being on the calendar, Senator Hart objected, and bill would not be considered.

WORLD IS LEGISLATION MAD.

Leslie's Weekly in a recent issue contained the following:

A Western legislator on his way to the State capitol was jostled on a crowded sidewalk. He was angry and proceeded at once to outline a bill to regulate sidewalk traffic by compelling the authorities to draw eight parallel lines, extending longitudinally over the walks in all cities in the State. Pedestrians were required to follow these lines, so that those moving in one direction would not interfere with those moving in another. The penalty for not following this chalk-line program was to be a fine of $5 for every offense or 10 days in jail. A fellow-member of the Legislature induced his angry associate not to introduce the bill, because it would have made him the laughing stock of the state.

We are "legislation mad" in this country. Every member of the State Legislature and nearly every member of Congress wants to have his name attached to some new law that he thinks will tickle the public, and especially the labor or farmer vote. Even staid old Massachusetts is afflicted. In 1906 the new bills introduced into its Legislature numbered 982. This year, thus far 2,013 bills have been introduced with a possibility of an increase to 3,000.

This is a fitting illustration of the tendency of too many of our legislators. They forget that the whole moral law, handed down to the people from Mount Sinia, was embraced in ten short commandments of less than 300 words, and that these commandments have sufficed for all ages without further definition, amendment, revision or recall. If Congress and all our legislatures would adjourn tomorrow and give the people a chance to rest and breathe, there would be more work for everybody—except the lawyers.

The truth of the above has been apparent some time. But a few days remain of the present session of the Virginia Legislature. A cartload of bills which have been introduced and referred to committees will not be reported and the affairs of the state will go on all the same.

WILSON WEAKENING ON MEXICAN POLICY.

Reports from Washington indicate that President Wilson is weakening on the policy which he has been pursuing in reference to Mexico. From his talks yesterday with members of congress and friends it is apparent that the President realizes that he cannot much longer continue to practically ignore a situation which presents features of the gravest nature to the American people.

It has been interesting but at the same time depressing to sit by and wait for the final exposition which will drive the President from his placid attitude to one that all red blooded Americans demand. Insults upon insults, the degradation of American women and the murder of American men has not been able to accomplish it, but the assassination of one Englishman has somewhat shaken his confident attitude. What will be the final act that will make the President assert himself to the limit of his great ability it is impossible to tell but, as pointed out in these columns from time to time, there is no question but that it will come and when it does it will make the whole world rise to its feet in horror.

LET US BE THANKFUL.

Alexandria, like many other places in the East, has every reason to be thankful that it came out of the storm, which marked the event of March, without suffering any greater damage than was done. It seems almost impossible that a hurricane of the proportions of the one that commenced on Sunday and lasted all day yesterday, should not have done greater damage. All the records indicate that the wind was heavier than the tropical storm of last summer yet the damage was much less. As in the case of the previous storm there was no one injured in this community. If it had snowed as hard as it blew Sunday night we should have had a snow storm to remember and talk about for the next ten years. But, fortunately the weather man did not use the right receipt for making a blizzard and though lionlike March roared loud enough to scare us and do a good deal of damage, we got off easily, all things considered. The wind caused widespread and not ill-founded apprehension, as shown by the results, and there is a general hope that March has pretty well blown himself out at the start.

Negro Thief Killed.

Hampton, Va., March 3.—Zack Henderson, a negro proprietor of a small store in Lincoln street, shot and instantly killed Ed Hanks, another negro, early Sunday morning. Henderson's store had been robbed repeatedly of late and after closing Saturday night he determined to stay in the store and watch. At about 2 o'clock he heard a noise at the window of a shed in the rear of the store, and taking a single barrel gun with him, went in the shed, arriving just in time to see the form of a man enter through the open window. The intruder was armed with a hatchet, and made directly towards Henderson, who fired point blank at him, the entire charge hitting him in the pit of the stomach just below the breast bone. After ascertaining who the man was and that he was dead, Henderson went down to police headquarters and gave himself up.

YOU CAN'T EARN MONEY WHEN YOU'RE LAID UP.

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps none of you feel that you can, but certainly some of you can't, for as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debts begin to pile up. The sensible thing for you to do, no matter what the cause, is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any medicine made that will do as much towards saving your health and thus helping you save your money as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and relieves it by toning the nerves, enriching the blood and giving new strength and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health-giving power is due to Pure Olive Oil and Hypophosphites, long endorsed by successful physicians, the one for its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about. You don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doesn't do all we say it will and satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, come back and get your money. It will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall stores, and in this town by Wm. P. Taylor, 516 King street.

Backache and Rheumatism Vanish Away.

Men and women having headache, rheumatism, stiff and swollen joints, are honestly glad to know that Foley's Kidney Pills are successful everywhere in driving out these ills. That is because Foley's Kidney Pills are a true medicine and quickly effective in all diseases that result from weak, inactive kidneys and urinary irregularities. Rev. C. M. Knighton, Havanna, Fla., writes: "I suffered intense pain in kidneys and back but after taking Foley's Kidney Pills all my pains disappeared and tho' I am 55 years old I feel like a young man again." EASY wicking is only one of the many improvements that make the new Perfection Oil Heater (Triangle trade mark) superior to any oil heater ever made before.

Wick and carrier are in one. Just turn up the old wick, slip it out and drop another in place.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

This New Model Perfection Heater is smokeless, odorless and economical.

The shape of the font, wide and shallow, allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures an even, glowing heat even when the font is almost empty. The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance.

There is no smoke or smell with a Perfection. The automatic-locking flame-spreader prevents smoking. No gallery to unscrew, or catch oil and dust.

Made with vitreous blue enamel or plain steel drums. Ornamental, inexpensive, lasts for years. Easily cleaned and moved about.

NEWS OF THE DAY

"That is the one who shot me," exclaimed Louis Perlman, pointing to Leo Smith, nineteen years old, of Baltimore, when the youth, along with six other young men, yesterday was taken to Emergency Hospital, in Washington, where the wounded tailor is making a fight for life. Perlman, who conducts a tailor shop at Fourteenth street and Rhode Island avenue northwest, was shot Saturday night shortly after 7 o'clock when he refused to hand over money to two young highwaymen. Smith was taken off the baggage car of a passenger train at Cumberland, Md., early Sunday morning. Smith admits he was in Washington Saturday afternoon, but declares he left the city before the shooting occurred. He denies any knowledge of the assault.

Ella Sweeney, 22 years old, of Hazelton, Pa., was found frozen to death yesterday in a sleigh, where her companion, James Barthold, had left her Saturday night in the blizzard while he went for help. The young woman had become terror-stricken over the raging storm and the fact that there were 4 or 5 miles of hard road to travel. Her companion stopped the horse within 200 yards of shelter, and tramped 2 miles over the mountain for assistance. Almost collapsing at the end of his journey, he was not permitted to make the return trip. A searching party found the body of the girl.

The combined effect of a ruling by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Harlan and evidence given the commission by David Lamar, "the wolf of Wall street," yesterday opens the way to a possible fine of $405,000,000 against the steel trust, if the government successfully prosecutes it for illegal rebating. The commission yesterday began hearings under the Lane resolution, which directed an investigation to determine whether facts or evidence exist justifying the government in proceeding against the steel trust for recovery of fines because of unlawful rebates.

Thirteen members of the crew of the Norwegian bank Tasman perished yesterday in the North Sea when the bark capsized. A fishing steamer rescued other members of the crew.

The voyage of the French Line steamer La Navarre from Habana to Nantes, France, was marked by an incident which may prove a tragedy. Mme. Marie Caufleu, a friend of Rodolfo Reyes, former minister of justice in the cabinet of President Huerta of Mexico, attempted to commit suicide by shooting last Saturday night. The woman was found lying outside Reyes' cabin with two bullets in her breast. A quarrel between Reyes and the woman is supposed to have been the cause of her act. The condition of Mme. Caufleu is pronounced very grave.

Wesley "Red" Simon, on trial in St. Louis, Mo., for murder, was shot and killed during a recess of the court before which he was being tried yesterday. Simon was shot in a saloon by the principal witness for the prosecution. Simon was placed on trial yesterday for the murder of Emmett Carroll in a gang feud nearly a year ago. The slayer gave himself up.

IN CHANCERY

Upon application of the complainant stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, the Court on this 7th day of February, 1914, doth grant the following order of publication.

The object of this suit is to obtain for the complainant a divorce from the bonds of matrimony from the defendant on the grounds of wilful desertion and abandonment for a period of more than three years prior to the institution of this suit, and for general relief. An affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant Joseph Johnston, has not been found within the jurisdiction of the State of Virginia, and is not a resident of the State; it is ordered, that he do appear here within fifteen days after due publication and do what is necessary to protect his interest in this suit.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria Virginia; that a copy be posted at the front door of the court House of the said city, on or before the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered and that a copy of the said order of publication be sent by registered mail by the Clerk of this Court, addressed to the said non-resident defendant, at Barracks, Washington, D. C., his last known place of abode.

RESCUED FROM HOUSEBOAT.

Marooned Party Suffers From Exposure During the Night.

Marooned on a small houseboat which had become "ice-logged" and was in danger of sinking at any moment, four men, suffering from cold and exposure, were rescued early yesterday morning by police of the Washington harbor precinct.

The men were John E. Cogswell, his son, John E. Cogswell, Jr., Frank A. Gibson, and William T. Garner, owners of the houseboat.

The quartet usually pass Sunday afternoon on the boat, and went out in a small skiff. When they prepared to return they discovered that the skiff had broken loose. Although directly opposite the Eleventh street wharf, in mid-channel, they were unable to make any one on shore hear their calls.

They broke up furniture to burn in the stove to keep them warm, but the fuel supply gave out before midnight.

At daylight the police saw there were men on the boat and Comodore Dean imemdiately sent the police boat to rescue them.

That the wind blew some in this vicinity of Rockville, Md., Sunday afternoon can be testified to by H. Clinton Allnutt, register of wills, and Mrs. Allnutt. The two spent the afternoon visiting relatives. On their way back home, their buggy was upset by the wind and both occupants were thrown out and down an embankment. Mr. Allnutt sustained an inquiry to one shoulder, but Mrs. Allnutt escaped with nothing more serious than a fright.

Thirty-two men were facing death last night off Fire Island on two coal barges. On shore life-savers are watching the imperilled vessels, but are unable to launch a rescuing boat, in the mountainous seas, as the wind is blowing directly toward the dangerous coast. Each of the barges is loaded with 2,000 tons of coal and stands only two feet out of water. Big waves are sweeping over them and they may sink at any moment.

Bertha Gladden, aged nineteen, was shot and instantly killed by her sister, Louise, aged twenty years, while the two were snapping "unloaded" guns at each other in fun, in Collinsville, Ala. A shotgun in the hands of the older girl exploded and blew her sister's head from her body. "We didn't know they were loaded," sobbed the older sister.

Three children lost their lives, two were burned seriously and a man was overcome by heat Sunday night when three cottages were destroyed by fire in West Shreveport, La.

With nineteen steamers, nine of them big ocean liners, held at sea by the worst gale since that of 1888, fears are felt that some of the vessels may meet with disaster. For the first time in history the New York bureau notified the steamboat companies that no vessels should be allowed to leave port.

A PROSPECTUS

THE HOSPITAL

The Alexandria Hospital has reached a crisis in its history. Established 1872 as an Infirmary it has grown with the demand of the time and has developed into a Hospital. As an Infirmary it gave home and comfort to the homeless and infirm. As a Hospital it gives temporary shelter with medical and Surgical aid and nursing to the sick.

OUR CITY

Many changes have taken place in Alexandria and its suburbs in forty two years. With the advancement of the times the population has doubled. There are now forty eight factories and thirty nine wholesale houses in our City. To meet the demands of the consumer there are three hundred and twenty eight retail stores. Our Streets and Schools have been improved to meet the need, and apartment houses have been built.

HOSPITAL NEEDS

With our City advancement has come a demand for a larger and better equipped Hospital. We need more beds—more rooms—and more nurses. The present equipment is entirely inadequate for the amount of work which must be done. It has been estimated by hospital authority that every town should have one hospital bed for every one hundred inhabitants. Alexandria and its suburbs has more than six hundred persons for each bed in its Hospital.

WORK OF OUR HOSPITAL

In the past three years there have been over twelve hundred patients treated in the Alexandria Hospital and over eight hundred surgical operations. Of this entire number of patients treated there have been only eighty five deaths. On an average one third of the patients treated are free patients. We believe the Hospital should care for the sick and injured who come to it, irrespective of color or religious creed. Both those able to pay and those who are not, the former because they will receive better care at less cost and greater comfort to themselves, their families and friends. For many of this class the Hospital is a necessity, living as they do in small apartments and rooming houses, where a protracted illness would be impossible for both the patients and their neighbors. The treatment of the second class, the free patient, is the real gage of the culture, refinement and Christian Brotherhood of a community. Some one quotes: 'The poor ye always have with you,' and does not believe in 'pauperizing' by free treatment. The modern Hospital points out the fact that, unless the destitute sick are helped they become a public burden instead of a self supporting unit to society. With the proper help, they may become an aid instead of a menace to the public.

THE TRAINED NURSE

Another opportunity of our modern Hospital is the training of nurses. The present day schools for nurses are not considered merely as an aid in the immediate care of the Hospital patient, but stand high among the educational institutions of the country. The trained nurse's influence as a public benefactor is felt from the time she enters training and does not stop when her period of training ends. As a graduate she enters the ranks in every city and town as pain alleviator, minister of the gospel of cleanliness and sanitation, public educator and disease preventor. She also renders proficient professional service in the home as an adjunct to the physician. As school nurse she detects and aids in the correction of defective vision and hearing of the pupils and prevents the spread of contagious and communicable diseases. Only those who have been ministered to by her or have need of her professional service when she cannot be gotten know the true value of the training school. The Alexandria Hospital maintains a training school for nurses, and it is not the least of its public service. The nurses are given the course of training and lectures required by the State Board of Examiners. They are required to pass examinations; given public graduating exercises, and awarded diplomas. After their course they are examined and registered by the State Board of Examiners. Some of the former graduates are filling positions of trust and responsibility. The Superintendent of the Training School is a graduate nurse, registered in three states and has had wide experience in Hospital and Training School work. The Assistant Superintendent is a graduate nurse in good standing in her profession. She has had many advantages and is competent in every line of the work.

THE MEDICAL STAFF

The medical and surgical staff cannot be excelled. It is made up of skillful, earnest, energetic men who give of their best skill and time to the poor who enter under their charge. They only need room to enlarge their work of doing good to humanity.

OUR SLOGAN

Let our Slogan be: A NEW HOSPITAL, BETTER EQIPMENT AND FACILITIES WITH WHICH TO LABOR FOR SUFFERING HUMANITY.

OUR APPEAL

An adequate Hospital Building will cost approximately fifty thousand dollars, ($50,000.00), and our appeal for this amount is addressed to you— to every man, woman and child and to every enterprise interested in the physical moral and educational development of Alexandria.

SNOWDRIFTS 20 FEET HIGH.

Western And Central New York State Storm Bound.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3.—Western and Central New York was storm-bound yesterday under snow from eight inches to two feet in depth.

Driven by a high wind the snow drifted, cutting off railroad and trolley lines and burying roads in the country districts until they were impassable. Street car traffic was abandoned and factories closed in Binghamton, while the fire department was unable to move its apparatus through the streets.

Most of the public schools at Rochester were closed, and similar conditions prevailed at Syracuse and Elmira.

Auburn was completely cut off by rail, snow being drifted in some places to a height of 20 feet.

New York Central train dispatchers here reported from 8 to 10 inches of snow along the railroad, with the heaviest fall between Syracuse and Albany.

HOMELESS MAKE DEMAND.

Leader Says Hotels and Restaurants Will Have to Provide Food for his Army.

New York, March 3.—"Tannenbaum's brigade"—as the band of homeless, unemployed men who have sought food and shelter from the elements for the past four days by spectacular raids upon churches—scored a bloodless conquest, of St. Mark's Church, at Tenth street and Second avenue last night.

After a brief skirmish with the police and a couple of anarchists who sought to take command, of the expedition, Frank Tannenbaum the I. W. W. organizer, led 200 of his cohorts up the Bowery to St. Mark's.

Here they were welcomed by the assistant rector, Dr. William Miller Gamble, himself a socialist, and other men and women members of the church, and ushered into the lecture room at the parish house. There was a roaring open fire, and the men were served with hot coffee and sandwiches, and after a welcome session of speech-making were housed for the night.

"We have a right to everyhouse in New York when we want to sleep, and to every loaf of bread in this city when we are hungry, and are prepared to assert that right," declared Tannebaum in a passionate speech at St. Mark's "We're going to boycott the bread line; the lodging houses, and the missions; we are going into restaurants, bakeries, and food stores to secure what we need. We are willing to work, but we will not scab. We shall not work more than eight hours a day or for less than $3 a day."

Arrangements were being perfected for a huge demonstration of the unemployed in Union Square next Saturday. In the meantime Tannebaum and his followers will continue their nightly raids on churches.

YESTERDAY'S STORM.

(March 2nd.)

'Tis Heard!
It's wild winds blow
Twirling and twisting
The trees to and fro.

A Crash!
'Tis some sturdy sentry
That has shaded for me
The rich and poor gantry.

A whistle
By a [illegible]
By the monarch of March
In his fury so fated.

The cars
The sentinels of the
Pay homage to God
As they submit to the gale.

The snow
As it wends it's way down,
Is put from it's course
Eddying 'round and around

The walls
All shiver, totter and shake,
For this monarch of strength
Maketh all things to quake.

A lull—
And all around is still
While the monarch chases a while
O'er a nearby hill.

A rush
And he's back. And the city
Is again in his grasp—
And he shows little pity.

He rushes an whistles and sings his song,
And the echoes hold the strain plaintively long;
And we pray our prayer to the God of the storm,
For abiding with us to keep us from harm.

Lo, as the shadows fall,
And the wind sang it's ditty,
All other things were hushed
Throughout the whole city.
Strong hearts and brave hearts
Refrained from sleeping,
Over their tenderest ones
A watch ever keeping.
